JUDGE MONCURE COMPLETES HIS STATEMENT

Is Cross-Examined By Members of Bar Association Committee

EXAMINATION SHORT

Attorney Frank Stuart Is to Make Statement In Attempted Rebuttal of Counter-Charges

The investigation committee of the Bar Association resumed its sessions this morning with Judge Robinson Moncure on the stand. The judge announced that he wished to make only one statement in his direct statement, after which he would be glad to answer any questions the members of the committee might wish to ask.

Judge Moncure stated that with reference to the conversation related between himself and Major Caton in regard to despositions of Mrs. Baggett as to residence, he had announced at the following term of court that he would require statements as to the term of residence of parties seeking divorce be more explicit—that they give the dates of residence rather than the mere statement that a person had resided in Alexandria a certain number of months, so that in case there seemed to be anything inconsistent about the residence the facts could be investigated.

Mr. Caton asked the judge some questions with the object of definitely fixing the date of his conversation with the judge regarding Mrs. Baggett, and stated he was under the impression that the conversation took place at least eight months ago, or longer.

Mr. Caton referred to the judge's remark that Mr. Caton had said to him he was sorry for Mrs. Baggett, and said he wished to correct that impression, as he had never known or heard of Mrs. Baggett before, and was resentful of the situation, and said it was the judge who remarked that he was sorry for Mrs. Baggett. The judge replied that he understood from the conversation that Mr. Caton's interest was for the benefit of the community; that he called Mrs. Baggett's attention to the fact that if there were anything wrong about her testimony it would lead to trouble for her; that she assured him she would be careful in her statements, and had been so, and that the judge had confidence in her.

Mr. Caton asked whether the judge had taken any steps to check up on subsequent statements of Mrs. Baggett, to which the judge replied he had not, because of the conversation he had with her he felt confident she was telling the truth; that on one occasion an attorney from Washington, when asked as to the residence of his client, stated he was under the impression the party lived with Mrs. Baggett; that the judge sent for Mrs. Baggett, placed her under oath, and she informed him the party did not live with her, and the judge dismissed the suit. He said the attorney had not positively stated his client lived with Mrs. Baggett.

Mr. Caton said that since the time of his conversation with the judge, in checking up he found that Mrs. Baggett had testified in about 75 cases, and asked if the judge could state whether, since the time of that conversation, Mrs. Baggett had testified in a sufficient number of cases to call to his mind that perhaps Mr. Caton's statement had had some truth in it. The judge replied that he had never taken particular notice of the number of cases in which Mrs. Baggett testified; that as a rule a number of cases would come to his desk on "rule day," and that the witnesses usually consisted of the plaintiff, one local witness and one other; that if the records are clear, and show that the case is not contested, the only thing he can do is to grant the divorce on the record, and if he did not the case would be carried to the court of appeals and granted there.

Mr. Caton stated that in going over the tabulation of cases handled prior to the judge's going on the bench, he found that of the cases handled by Judge Moncure's firm, in which Mrs. Baggett testified, for a period of about eight months there was a total of 24 people shown to be living in her house; and asked if the judge could tell how many of these people came to him by virtue of Mrs. Baggett being interested, or how many came to him first and were by him sent to Mrs. Baggett. The judge replied that he could not say; that he had known Mrs. Baggett since he first came here, and during that time his practice had grown from nothing to a very large one; that the divorce practice was not the largest part of his business, which paid him about $12,000 per year. That a great majority of his clients seeking divorces came to his office to see him, but occasionally Mrs. Baggett would bring a person to his office and introduce this person to him, after which Mrs. Baggett probably would leave. That he had on a very few occasions sent people to Mrs. Baggett that he knew she kept a boarding house and that she had a good number of divorce seekers living there, but that he would take the social status of the person into consideration; that he had a list of four or five boarding houses which he would sometimes recommend, and that sometimes he would simply give the person the city directory and suggest that he look up the boarding houses in that; that he had had requests from very respectable boarding house keepers in the city ask him to send them roomers.

When asked whether, in handling these cases, he knew, or would have reason to know, that a certain number of people lived with Mrs. Baggett, the Judge replied that he did not; that if it had been brought to his attention that 24 people lived with Mrs. Baggett, this would not have aroused any suspicion in his mind, because different people have different modes of living; some people wanted a whole suite of rooms, while others were content to live several in a room, and he did not know the number of rooms in the Baggett house.

The committee took an adjournment at 1 o'clock, to reconvene at 2 o'clock. Attorney Frank Stuart will make a statement this afternoon in attempted rebuttal of Judge Moncure's counter-charges against him.

BONUS FIGHT IN HOUSE IS GAINING FORCE

If Veto Is Found Probable, Will Endeavor to Kill Bill

MELLON JOINS FIGHT

Comptroller Crissinger Says He Will Advise Banks Against Making Loans on Bonus Certificates.

Washington, March 10.—The attack on the Bonus bill framed by the Ways and Means Committee showed increasing vitality yesterday.

Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger, a close friend of President Harding, denounced it, and said that if it became a law he would advise the banks against accepting the insurance certificate as collateral for loans.

At the same time an open attack was made on the bill in the House by a Republican member from Ohio, and word went out that some of the members who favored meeting a bonus appropriation with a sales tax are preparing to call on the President as soon as he returns to ascertain whether he really means to veto the bill if it reaches him, and if so, to move accordingly in the fight in Congress.

Representative Charles L. Knight, of Akron, made the attack in the House. He branded the Bonus bill as "the capsheaf upon the whole stack of class legislation," and accused Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, of using language to President Harding "which might have been expected from a captain of the Pretorian Guard to a weak and pusillanimous emperor, but hardly to the Chief Executive of this great republic."

Despite the opposition that has developed to the soldier certificate plan of adjusted compensation, Representative Joseph W. Fordney, of Michigan chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, said he plans to bring the bill before the House for consideration one week from Monday. Its passage a few days later is anticipated. Reports to the effect that President Harding would not accept the soldier certificate plan, but would veto such legislation if enacted, have not altered the course charted by the chairman.

Some of the other members of the Ways and Means Committee, among them Representative Longworth, of Ohio, and Isaach Bacharach, of New Jersey, whose views have been more in harmony with President Harding's than have those of Mr. Fordney, except to call on the President as soon as he returns from his Southern trip, to ascertain whether he will go to the extent of vetoing the present bill.

Like President Harding, Mr. Longworth and Mr. Bacharach believe that if bonus legislation is enacted a sales tax should be levied to raise the money for it, but they were given to understand that the President would approve the soldier certificate plan in lieu of any taxes. If he will not do so a determined fight will be made to kill the present bill.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has been quoted as saying the soldier certificate plan is the "worst yet," and Mr. Crissinger said today that insurance of certificates as collateral for loans to 80 per cent. of their face value as "the worst kind of frozen credit." Mr. Crissinger would not have authority under the law to prohibit national banks under his jurisdiction from refusing to accept that class of security, but he said he would strongly advise against their acceptance.

The Comptroller said that the certificates would be non-negotiable paper and loans upon them would load the banks up with an unmovable mass of securities for the three-year period they cover. The certificates, so it was said, would be like real estate loans, which are not rediscountable at Federal Reserve Banks. There is a general desire for more liquid securities, instead of freezing up the present credits still tighter.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(For The Gazette)

Washington, March 10.—Word reached the Washington police last night that two young naval lieutenants, traveling on the boat from Norfolk to Washington, were carrying in their baggage four cases of choice whiskies for brother officers in Washington. The police immediately notified Frd G. Rose, chief of the Washington prohibition agents, who got United States Commisioner Isaac R. Hitt out of bed and asked for a search warrant.

"What information have you to show that the naval officers are carrying liquor?" asked Commissioner Hitt.

"We have word from a man in Norfolk that they are carrying it," said Rose.

"I will issue no search warrant on any such information as that," answered Hitt, who yawned and went back to bed.

When the naval officers arrived, they were not molested, but went their ways with several heavy pieces of baggage, which might or might not have contained whisky.

Rum smuggling operating along the Florida coast are being trailed by seven navy sob-chasers. Official announcement of this made made at the Treasury Department today. These sub-chasers, which are under the supervision of the Coast Guard Service, have on board a number of prohibition agents who are co-operating with the Coast Guard officials in running down violators of the Volstead law.

For some time past, Royal A. Haynes, prohibition commissoner, and the force of agents directly under him, have been at work upon a plan to make a clean-up around the Florida coast and to discover and wipe out smugglers' "nests" that are said to be the chief cause for the large amount of liquor being brought into this country from Cuba and other wet places to the South. It was stated today that in this work of stamping out the smuggling game along the Florida coast the Cuban government will not be called upon to render any assistance to the United States.

Fear of the November elections on the part of the Republican leaders will cause the House by a vast majority, probably on March 20, to pass the bonus bill issue on to the Senate, where it is now predicted the bill will be held up indefinitely, if it is not postponed altogether. The majority to be given the bonus bill in the House will probably be something like 8 or 9 to 1, with as few as 60 of the 435 members of the body voting against the measure. No opportunity will be given to amend it in any particular, according to the present plan, and it will be forced through under a suspension of the rules that will shut off debate unless there is unanimous consent to extend the time past the 20 minutes to each side allotted under the existing House rules. There is no question but that a good many members of the House would like to vote against the measure, but dare not do so for the reason that they fear they can not be renominated and re-elected if the political force of the American Legion is lined up against them.

Soft coal consumers have been advised by Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, to begin storing coal, in view of the probability of a very low output from the mines in the next thirty or sixty days, and to provide against the contingency of a coal strike April 1. Dr. Smith's warning followed an official statement by the railroads showing a large reduction in the coal traffic movement. Reports to Government agencies also showed that industries generally are under-stocked to meet any emergency which might develop, either out of a partial or complete shutdown of the soft coal mines.

"The larger the tonnage of coal in storage on April 1 the more certain the continuous operation of all industry," Dr. Smith says.

"Coal can be bought now in a buyer's market. It is not too late, even with more than a week in March gone, to store coal against the needs of April and May. The consumer can do much to keep the market a buyer's market. He should realize that what has hurt the country, both coal miner and coal user, in the late years, has been the orgy of high prices for coal and consequent inflation of mine labor and of mine capacity. That kind of prosperity hurts everyone."

To Attend Fair Tonight

Large Delegation of Local Members of Almas Temple Expected

Elaborate preparations are being made by the committee on arrangement for the reception of the Acca Shrine Club, of Alexandria, Va., in honor of which the Almas Temple Shrine Fair will be held at Convention Hall, Washington, tonight.

Illustrious Potentate L. P. Steuart, of Almas Temple, said that a change had been made in arranging nights for the different fraternal bodies, as announced yesterday. Instead of the Eastern Star being guests of honor Monday night that organization will be received tomorrow night, and Monday night will be devoted to the members of Kallipolis Grotto, who will parade in a body to the hall.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY WITH BANQUET

125 PERSONS ATTEND

Representative R. Walton Moore Principal Speaker—Elegant Repast Served by Ladies.

Columbia Motor Company was 51 years old last night and they celebrated it in a most befitting manner with a big banquet which was served at the company's house. About 125 persons were present. Speechmaking was the order of the evening. The affair was one of the most successful ever given by that company. Among those in attendance were a number of veteran members of the company. Norman Roberts, president, was toastmaster, and during the evening speeches were made by eight persons. It was close to 11 o-clock when the assemblage adjourned for the evening.

Representative R. Walton Moore was the principal speaker. The speaker in his opening related that when a youth attending the University of Virginia he was greatly impressed with a picture in which one of the philosophers represented tells of the theory that the fundamental element is water, and on the opposite side was one who held to the theory that fire was. Mr. Moore declared they had no forecast that in the future one element would be used to combat the other. Continuing, he said: "Certainly they had no notion of the banquets given by Columbia Company No. 4, and particularly the ladies."

Mr. Moore told his audience that he had spent some little time during the day looking over the newspaper files in the Congressional Library to find out just what was going on fifty-one years ago, March 9, 1871. The first paper he looked for, he said, was The Alexandria Gazette, but he added that unfortunately the files of this date were not there, and then he found the files or the Washington Star. He found the road in those days he said from what he saw in the newspapers of that date, to be hard and dry as they are today. Europe was then in trouble and conditions on this side of the ocean were in despair. In this country, he said, things were impoverished owing to the war. There was a great coal strike pending, and there was complaint of profiteering. In the forty-first Congress of March 3, 1871, he said, he discovered that the late Lewis McKenzie of Alexandria was a member, and George Tucker of Alexandria contested his seat, and in the forty-second Congress, which convened the following day, Elliott Braxton took his seat, and this was contested by Lewis McKenzie. The road in those days, he said, was hard, but the men traveled it with the courage of fire.

Continueing Mr. Moore said: "The paramount duty of citizenship is that of service, which expresses the central thought of religion, and that is the brotherhood of men. Anybody can find that chance. Everyone can find it, and add to the total of human happiness and help to lift civilization to a higher and more shining plane. There is no lack of opportunity for those having purpose of vision. In this day we have got to hold our nerve."

Frank Stuart, president of Motor Company No. 1, was the first speaker called on. The efforts of the company of which he is the head, he asserted, is to build up as strong if not a stronger company than the Columbia. He referred to the splendid work of President Roberts in building up the Columbia Company, and the entire fire department. The speaker declared he thought the Columbia Company the best fire fighting organization in the city of Alexandria.

Henry Aaron, president of Motor Company No. 5, expressed pleasure at being present, and he said that Columbia Company is one of the most efficient fire companies in the city. No. 5 company, he said, was organized in May, 1921, and through the co-operation of Company No. 4, he said, his company had been able to build up a company which he thought would shortly equal any company in the city.

Fire Chief E. J. McDermott told of his association with the Alexandria Fire Department, which began eighteen years ago with the Columbia Company, and of the active offices of the company he had served in, and at the time of the world war, he said, he was its vice president when he was called to the colors.

Chief McDermott said that after becoming head of the department he was confronted with the task of reorganizing, adding that a fire fighting machine has been built up which, he said, he did not think had any equal. Continuing, he said: "I know we have no shirkers. I never had to ask a man to go to a place of danger, but on the contrary most of the time I have to go and pull them out. The Columbia Company has set a high standard due to their longer service." The speaker praised the efforts of President Roberts and Captain J. W. Schneider of that company.

Rev. Robert Browne, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, was the next speaker. In part he said: "Your chief has told you of the high standard of efficiency. There is one theory that is paramount above all things, and that is obedience to orders and respect for authority. Right here in Alexandria we have a second-to-none fire brigade, and you should be thankful you have volunteers instead of paid men, because they are loyal, and the paid department is simply a machine. The firemen of the city have a warm place in the hearts of the citizns. It is the desire of all that they should reach the highest standard of efficiency." The speaker expressed the hope that they would continue to make progress, and congratulated the men, and their chief in particular, that the fire fighters are second to none. He advocated putting the right men in the right places and holding the hands of their chief up, and in conclusion said he hoped they would press forward to a higher and better work.

Captain George H. Evans, business manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said it was an honor and pleasure to be present—an honor because the company has rendered service for half a century, and a pleasure to gaze into the faces of a number of the older members whom he had known since childhood. Captain Evans paid a tribute to Representative Moore, who, he declared, stood four square to the winds that blew, and who, he said, stands high in the seats of the mighty. He said he knew of no man who is more fitted to represent the people of this district than Mr. Moore.

H. R. Burke, president of Common Council, declared the Alexandria Fire Department to be second to none in the country. The speaker told of the struggggle before and after the war the city for finances, and he added that the value of the fire department is recognized and that City Council gives the firemen all they ask for if they are able. Concluding, Mr. Burke of the city for finances and he added zens as firemen their future success was assured.

Loudoun Campbell, veteran engineer of the old Columbia, was the last speaker of the evening. Mr. Campbell assured the men they were good citi- of that company. He compared conditions today with those existing in bygone days, when he became a member. He said that he and the late Henry Posey many a day spent the entire day in the old engine house with only one or two visitors. The rivalry existing between the Columbia and Hydraulian companies in those days was narrated by Mr. Campbell.

Norman Roberts, president of the company, presided and made a short address in which he expressed pleasure at so many being present. This company, said Mr. Roberts, has a

HOUSE.

Met at noon and adjourned at 5:30 p. m. until noon today.

Continued consideration of the bill making appropriations for the Department of Agriculture during the fiscal year beginning July 1 next.

Put back into the bill the $360,000 item for free seed which was cut out by the committee in framing the measure.

An appropriation of $400,000 for operation of the Government's helium plant at Fort Worth, Tex., during the coming fiscal year has also been recommended by the sub-committee. Last year's bill carried $250,000 for the plant.

The soldiers bonus bill, now pending before the House, struck a new obstacle with the announcement by Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger that in the event of the enactment of soldiers' bonus legislation providing for payments by adjusted service certificates he would advise national banks to decline to accept the certificates as security for loans.

As collateral for loans, Mr. Crissinger asserted, the certificates would constitute the worst kind of frozen credit.

Before the Military Affairs Committee General Pershing renewed his opposition to the plan of the House subcommittee to reduce the number in the army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers.

The Naval Affairs Committee discussed the advisability of abandoning the Paris Island, S. C., marine corps station and consolidating its activities with the Quantico, Va., marine base. Major General Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, declared the proposed consolidation would save about $400,000, but added he would not recommend it.

The cost to the Government of guarding the mails with marines has been $250,000. Major General Lejeune, commanding the marine corps, told the Naval Affairs Committee.

A resolution introduced by Representative James M. Mead, of New York, calls for an investigation looking to the purchase of buildings to house the Government departments now occupying privately owned buildings which, the resolution asserts, are unsafe.

HONEST AND FEARLESS MEN ARE NEEDED

Library of Congress

C. E. Ashburner Speaks to Kiwanians on Coming Election

WEIGH CANDIDATES

Urges Selection of Five Best Men Regardless of Politics or Religion and For Citizens to Get Behind Them.

Charles D. Ashburner, city manager of Norfolk, in his address yesterday afternoon before the Kawanis Club said in part: "Every man owes an obligation to the community for the purpose of living in that community, and it is only by unselfish service that you will get the best out of it. I know it is a sacrifice to serve in public office. Someone has got to do it and it is the men who are big enough to deal in conditions. I mean by that that they are big enough to do things because it is right to do them or to leave things undone because some do not want them done.

"It is up to your citizens to create a sentiment that will make it an absolute duty to get men who will serve you particularly at this time when we are undergoing a change in the form of government. You should elect men who know no men regardless of politics or religion; men who know no favorite, and if you do that you will have a prosperous community. You should get away from sectional and petty politics. You should get the vision of seeing what the man did for the community.

"Be not against the other man because you differ from him in religion or politics or prohibition. Get out on the streets and get it into the hearts of the organization that when they select honest and fearless men and get men best for the community you will go forward by steps you never dreamed of before.

"Everyone owes it to weigh every candidate in the field. Your future welfare depends on the selection. A majority of the people of Alexandria voted to change the form of government and they demand that you select five of the best men and when you do get behind them and then in the struggle they will have. Some persons think that after you put them in office all you have got to do is to go up to them and they can pull money off a tree. Anything you get you have got to pay for.

"Assessments in Virginia are about fifty per cent on the $100. You feel that when you are paying taxes someone is robbing you. When you pay your taxes you are investing in your corporation. You are working for your home town making it better to live in.

"Chicago has tax rate of $7.50 on the $100 and that is why they have so many fine things. Dont go nutty because a tax of ten cents is asked you to put a deal across."

Concluding his address Mr. Ashburner said: "You should vote for a man who stands up for and says I am for Alexandria and then you will know you have done the best you can for the community as God can see it."

Julian Y. Williams presided and introduced the speaker. Mr. Williams declared we were on the eve of the election for the councilmen under the council manager plan form of city government, but as far as he was aware the Kiwanis Club had no candidates to place in the field.

Hopewell—The city has acquired two valuable lots adjoining the city stables for the very low price of $260 Chief of Police W. E. Thurston negotiating the purchase. SHIP CASE SET FOR APRIL 28

Will Argue Motions on Day Designated by Court

One is For Consolidation of Suits and One to Dismiss Process Against Fleet Corp.

In the cases of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, in which that concern is both complainant and defendant, Judge Edmund Waddill yesterday afternoon, in the United States Court here, fixed upon April 28 for the attorneys to get ready and argue their motions. These motions are for a consolidation of the suits pending, and another to dismiss the process on the Emergency Fleet Corporation. A large number of attorneys were present when the case was called yesterday. Judge Waddill has been specially designated to hear this case.

DAVIS MAKES PLEA TO AVERT COAL STRIKE

Makes Plea of Common Sense to Miners and Operators

SEEKS TO SAFEGUARD

Secretary of Labor Issues Statement Saying Government Has No Desire to Interfere Unduly.

Washington, March 10.—Secretary of Labor Davis yesterday broke the silence he has maintained during the 10 days in which the Government has actively sought intervention in the impending coal strike to urge mine operators and the miners' union "in the name of common sense to get together and save the country from the costly results of a strike."

The Government has "no desire to interfere unduly," he announced, "but has a duty to safeguard the interests of the people who will be seriously affected by the suspension of coal mining."

Although no immediate responses were received at the Secretary's office after the statement was issued, press dispatches immediately reflected the interest taken in it by representatives of unions and operators in the country's widespread coal fields.

Official reports to the department, however, were concerned largely with details concerning the dissension in the miners' organization, where Frank Farrington, the Illinois leader, and some other district heads are said to be beginning local negotiations in defiance of the policy of President John L. Lewis and the national executive board of the United Mine Workers.

There was no disposition in official circles today to conceal that Mr. Davis' statement, which explained again the Government's position, was one result of the repeated refusal of Pennsylvania and other mine operators in the central competitive field to enter negotiations looking to another national wage agreement.

The union, it was pointed out here, has sought this course from the beginning, and the operators have been unyielding in opposition, though willing in some cases to make local or district contracts with the union.

The statement, as issued by the Department of Labor, said:

"Secretary Davis is now in direct communication with representatives of the coal operators of the central competitive field. It is his earnest desire that both miners and operators carry out the spirit and intent of the resolution adopted at the New York conference of March, 1920, which provided for a preliminary conference to meet prior to April 1, 1922, to arrange a time and place for a meeting of a new agreement."

The Secretary's action is heartily approved by President Harding. None of the Government officials in touch with the threatened coal situation can see any objection to a council-table gathering of those directly interested in the bituminous coal industry, and particularly in the present situation, when it is a part of the last agreement and in line with long-time practice in the coal industry. Joint meetings, such as those of the anthracite operators and miners called for New York city March 15, give to each side an opportunity to go into every phase of the disputed factors, and can only result in better understanding.

"The course suggested by Secretary Davis is only an expression of the earnest conviction of the public, as is evidenced by scores of editorials in the leading newspapers of the country, that until such meeting is held in accordance with a previous understanding the two sides to the coal situation have not discharged the obligations resting upon them.

"The Government has no desire to interfere unduly, but, having not only the interests of the employers and employes in mind, it also has a duty to safeguard the interests of the people who will be seriously affected by the suspension of coal mining.

"Secretary Davis cannot see why, in the interests of common sense, the two sides to the coal controversy cannot get together and adjust their differences and save the country from the costly results of a strike."

Charlottesville—A senational shooting case occurred in the eastern part of the county yesterday afternoon in which George Garrison, a merchant at Campbell Station, was done to death by James Proffitt, at the latter's place in that neighborhood.

According to reports, Garrison had been warned some weeks ago not to come to Proffitt's place again, and yesterday when he appeared there on horseback, accompanied by B. J. Johnson, Proffitt emerged from the house, with pistol in hand. After accosting Garrison with the remark, "Didn't I tell you not to come here again?" he leveled his pistol at Garrison as he attempted to make off on his horse and dropped him at the first shot. He then approached the prostrate form of the fugitive and fired two bullets into his breast as he lay upon the ground.

bright future, though no goal has been set; but, he added, "We propose to drive on and on for the protection of life and property in the city and vicinity." The speaker then read regrets from the following: Former Congressman Charles C. Carlin, who was detained in Baltimore; Woodrow Wilson, former President of the United States; Senator Claude A. Swanson, Chief Watson of the Washington Fire Department; F. E. Marbury, president of the Board of Aldermen; Battalion Chiefs Hunton and Barnham, of the Washington Fire Department.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the guests assembled repaired to the dining hall. Then Fred Webb of the Columbia Company announced to the general public that the celebration of its fifty-first anniversary was on. The tables were tastefully decorated, palms, ferns and cut flowers being in profusion. A large number of pretty ladies wives, sisters and mothers of members, were right on the job throughout the evening, and they say that every guest was well provided for. Red candles were scattered throughout on the tables, which were arranged in "E" shape.

The big assembly room never looked prettier, and here and there were scattered some of the rest veterans of the company, among them being Stephen Taylor, Lonsdale Campbell, Charles Duffey and others. At the center, or head table, was a big basket of cut flowers marked in gold letters, "Best Wishes from Motor Company No. 5."

At the rear end of the hall was the company's service flag containing 23 stars, representing that number of men who answered the call to the colors, among which was a gold star for one who made the supreme sacrifice.

When the banquet was opened invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Robert Browne, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, and benediction by the Rev. L. P. Kelly, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, brought the banquet to a close.

Rev. Hall Pays Tribute To Mrs. Service

At the funeral of Mrs. Ann Entistl- Service, one of th eoldest and ost valued members of St. Paul's urch, on Thursday afternoon, the v. Percy Foster Hall said: "Many oughts come to our minds on this emn occasion, and many passages Holy Scripture recall themselves. e can hardly fail to think of Dorcas. Tabitha, who in the early days of th church used her needle for God's ory so faithfully and lovingly that s was thought worthy of being ised from death by Saint Peter. And thre were two women in the Gospels whm our Lord commended. Sweet Mry of Bethany, who perhaps understod Jesus better than anvone else in th Gospel story, was criticised for her over enthusiasm and devotion in anointing his feet with the precious ointment Jesus defended her, "She hat done what she could." Very applicible to her whose memory we honr is this text. She used for the chuch the gift that she had, faithfull and perseveringly, and made her imple task in the Sewing Society an example and inspiration to us all. The ther woman, who knelt at Jesus feet, was criticised, too, by cold-hearted formal religion. An dof her Jesus said She loved much." Of our friend this, too. may be emphatically said. How wholeheartedly she loved St. Paul's Church! The church needs work, but more it needs love. God asks our services, but much more He desires our love. And how greatly the church was able to enrich our friend's life, and what true happiness came to her, because she loved so much those who stand on the mere edge of the church's life little guess what happiness they are missing and what joy might be theirs if they did for the church 'what they could' and if they "loved much." For many a long day we shall miss our dear friend, remembering always her work and labor of love.

Deaths and Funerals

The last rites of Mrs. Kate H. Eaton, who died Wednesday, were held this afternoon from her late residence, 912 Duke street, and conducted by the Rev. Dr. W J. Morton. sector of Christ Episcopal church. Burial was in the Methodist Protestant Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Alice Virginia Edwards, widow of George Edwards, who died yesterday, will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from the residence of John Hammersley, 421 South Payne street. Services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. E B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and burial will be in the Methodist Protestant Cemetery.

Ingomar—Roy Stewart

In Sheriff Jim, a five-reel Western feature, starring Roy Stewart, at the Ingomar tonight, we have a highly emotional and thrilling tale of Mexican border life.

MEMORIAM

Sacred to the memory of my Aunt, MRS. JENNIE WALLS FAHNLINE, who departed this life thirteen years ago today March 10th, 1922.
Thy voice is hushed;
Thy hands at rest—
Life's burdens all laid down.
But "over there" a sweet reward,
A mansion and a crown.

We shall meet some glad morning,
Resting by the river fair;
You are waiting for our coming
In the upper garden there.
By her niece and namesake,
JENNIE TRESSA BAYLISS.

DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION

We published yesterday a letter from Mr. E. E. Davison, suggesting that a local Dairyman's Association be formed in this section. We approve heartily of the idea, and hope the dairymen who furnish Alexandria with this most important necessity will get together and form an association along the lines of other cities. That this will be beneficial in maintaining a standard of quality, in always commanding a fair and moderate price and in improving the service, there can be no question. The trend in every modern industry is towards co-operation and unification, and it is a regrettable fact that we have been behind the times in our handling of the milk industry in and around this city. We suggest to Mr. Davison that he send to us what information he has on the subject, which we will gladly print in our columns. We are further of the opinion that it will be well for those interested to get together and start such an organization as is proposed, forthwith.

HOW PHILADELPHIA DOES IT

Philadelphia has gotten tired of being the butt of the rest of the country. With her Quaker patience she has stood it for half-a-century. The fires of her anger have been burning a long time, however, and slow fires burn fiercest and hottest. It is reported that she has passed ordinances punishing any pun, jest, joke or gibe that slanders or slurs her fair name, and provides jail or fine, or both, for any offense against her dignity. Alexandria has suffered much in the same way, but the puns, jests, jokes and gibes have been usually perpetrated in our neighboring city of Washington. That being under federal jurisdiction, it would seem that our remedy lies with Congress. A federal statute therefore would be in order, and it might be made a plank in the next congressional platform in the Eighth District pledging the candidate to introduce a bill to cover the case. There could be no opposition from either of our senators, and being a local affair, the Senate would pass it without opposition, as a matter of senatorial courtesy. However, all this would require time and manipulation, and we are firmly of the opinion that ere it can be brought about in that way Alexandria will have become Greater Alexandria, and the possible cause or occasion entirely obliterated. Our city is about to take two long steps forward in its march towards the goal, and a third step is on the lift;—we refer to the handsome new school, the construction of which is already begun, the improved highway to Fairfax, and the Great White Way.

WISE WOMEN

A famous medical man of ancient times states regarding his writings that they were but a collection of knowledge obtained from the "Wise Women."

Do you realize that in those times the women, and not the men, knew about the healing properties of medicinal plants, roots and herbs? From the earliest times women had a knowledge of the treatment of disease and of the healing merit of roots and herbs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was originated by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, and is now known and praised by women of all ages. It is prepared from roots and herbs having medicinal action of great value in the treatment of troubles women so often have.

Valentino is Dancer

Great Film Favorite Started Life as Farmer—Later Took up Dancing

Rudolph Valentino, the celebrated young dancer who has the leading male role in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," a Rex Ingram production for Metro which will be shown at the Idle Hour Theater, on March 14, 15 and 16, found his way to fame and fortune through his nimble feet.

When you see Mr. Valentino in this screen adaptation of the world-famous novel of Vicente Blasco Ibanez by June Muthis and notice his finished acting, the sure swagger of the cafe scenes laid in the Argentine, the polish of his manner in interpreting the student and lover in Paris, it will be your unquestionable opinon that here is a man initiated in theatrical ways as a child.

But it was neither as a dancer nor as an actor that Mr. Valentino hoped to take fortune by storm. It was in the more humble sphere as a prospective agriculturist that he came to the United States, at the age of 18, a graduate from the Royal Military College of Agriculture at Genoa, Italy. As he planned his future, he would become one of the great land owners in this country of opportunity.

But things happened swiftly for him in New York. Soon he was busy teaching Broadway's regulars his graceful steps. He appeared at Rector's as a dancing partner of Bonnie Glass, following this engagement with one in the Winter Garden and a long term contract in vaudeville.

From dancing to motion pictures was an easy step. His first picture with Mae Murray in "The Big Little Person." When Rex Ingram, in his painstaking search for the type to portray the pleasure-loving South American hero of "The Four Horsemen" saw Valentino, he chose him for the part.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS TO WHITEN HANDS

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerine and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft clear rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.

CALOMEL USERS TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Next Dose of Treacherous Drug May Start Terrible Salivation

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat .Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary, Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

Rheumatism at 60

How glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S. S. S. do it. It will build you up, too!

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight! The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; lifelong and suffering, sent forward, not over but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the best. Does anybody know? S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S. S. S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe it's your mother! S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

NOTICE

The Washington-Virginia Railway Company has filed a petition with the State Corporation Commission of Virginia, asking that it be allowed to consolidate the three ticket offices now maintained by it in the city of Alexandria, Va., into one ticket office, at the northeast corner of King and Columbus streets.

The State Corporation Commission will, after the publication of this notice for three weeks fix a date when any one interested may be heard in its court room in the city of Richmond.

Should this consolidation become effective, round-trip tickets will be sold on all trains at the same price as in the office.

State Wide Community Life Campaign

East Rarford, Vi.—Following the Rural Life Conference held in the House of Delegats, Richmond, Va., May 1922, a conference of Rural Life Agencies was appointed by the Chairman, Hon. R. Walton Moore. On this sheet personnel of this State Council of Rural Agencies which represents a large number of constructive and public spirited organizations of this State.

This State Council of Rural Agencies has for some time been planning a Statewide Community Life Campaign in behalf of all the finer interests of the people of the whole State. The month of May 1922 has been fixed for this Statewide "Community Life Campaign." During the month of May it is planned to reach every community in the State by literature, by information, and by men and women who will in each community speak in church, school houses, and on all occasions where they can get a hearing.

During the next few weeks much information will be given out as to the plans and methods of this Community Life Campaign..

Chairman of the Publicity Committee. committee for the whole State, I am writing you to ask your cooperation in every way possible in giving publicity to this State-wide Community Life Campaign. We are anxious to reach every nook and corner of this Commonwealth through this campaign. To do this it will be necessary for us to have the hearty cooperation of the newspapers, both daily and weekly.

Thanking you for your kind consid Thanking you for your kind cooperation, I am

Sincerely,
Jorn Preston McConnell

Quito, capital of Ecuador, is the only city in the world located on the exact line of the Equator. At Quito the sun rises and sets at 6 o'clock all the year round.

Ghent, Belgium, stands on twenty-six islands which are connected with each other by eighty bridges. The city is noted as the birthplace of Charles V and John of Gaunt. It is associated with American history by being the scene of the treaty of Dec. 24, 1814, which terminated the second war between the United States and England.

IF STOMACH IS BAD
LET DIAPEPSIN END
GAS, INDIGESTION

"Papes Diapepsin" has proven itself the sure relief for Indigenstion, Gases Flaturence, Heartburn, Sourness, Fermentation or Stomach Distress caused by acidity. A few tablets give almost immediate stomach relief and shortly the stomach is corrected so you can eat favorite foods without fear. Large case cost only a few cents at drug store. Millions helped annually.

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

It is the Safe and Reliable Tonic Used by Physicians for 30 Years

There are "new styles" even in medicines. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad." Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood. It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan. Advertisement.

WHAT SHALL I DO WITH THEM?

Give them away—throw them away—sell them to old shoe dealers? Not a bit of it, dear lady. Bring them here and watch us transform those old, dilapidated, shapeless, apparently useless shoes into the finest looking footwear you ever saw. Don't believe we can do it? It will cost you nothing if we don't prove it to you.
